

Sonic Emotion has created a solution to let several sound devices play together to form the most immersive and natural sound experience ever. It works with any content and doesn't require any specific audio format; even stereo input will create an astounding immersive and natural sound experience. While Sonic Emotion's Absolute 3D™ technology allows a single device to fill a room with sound, Absolute Party™ allows for the most interactive sound experience ever. The end users can simply place the sound wherever they want it and can control the music dynamically by means of a smartphone app. The content is transmitted wirelessly to all devices.

Let them all play together

Absolute Party™ will allow speakers to play together to:

- Create the most immersive sound experience ever
- Control the front direction and width of the sound
- Create a club-like atmosphere and spread the sound all-over
- Enjoy playful integration of dynamic moving sound and DJ-tools to control the music experience
- Absolute Party™ can be used together with Absolute 3D™ and Absolute Precision™

Sonic Emotion's Absolute Party™ uses sound field control to match the loudspeaker placement in a given environment. Manufacturers can easily implement Absolute Party to their wireless sound devices.

System Requirements

- Operates with sound devices embedded with Absolute 3D™
- Sound source from App or directly from cloud service
- Absolute Party™ implemented on the master device with separate audio communication to each slave speaker
- Smartphone app to setup the position of speakers
- Smartphone app to easily interact with the sound during play
- Works for any Absolute Party™ enabled device
- Sound bars and boom boxes can be combined
- Creates a home theater like a traditional surround sound system

Manufacturers and brands can integrate Absolute Party™ to their family of products (sound bars, boom boxes and portable speakers), creating easy to use multi speaker setups and maintain the same interface independent of the exact configuration at the end user. Absolute Party™ is completely format agnostic and will work with any stereo content. Brands may consider combining sound bars with their boom box offerings to create a full surround solution using Absolute Party™.

Easy to use

Using Absolute Party™ together with Absolute 3D™ will create the most immersive experience ever and lets the customer interact with the music content in the most intuitive way through a graphical app.

- Easy to use smartphone app
- Effortless set-up process; simply drag each speaker to the position you hear it from
- Customers can play with the sound at their fingertip
- No technical experience required!
